NBC and Telemundo owned stations are teaming up with hundreds of shelters across the country to host the fifth annual Clear the Shelters, a nationwide pet adoption drive on Saturday, August 17 to help find loving homes for animals in need. More than 250,000 pets found their forever homes since 2015.

"Clear The Shelters is a summer tradition that communities everywhere look forward to," said Valari Staab, President, NBC Universal Owned Television Stations. "We're proud to join with animal shelters and rescues, as well as our affiliate station partners and sponsors, [Cat's Pride, Hill's Pet Nutrition and our digital media partner The Dodo] to present this annual event that celebrates animals and helps shelters match families with their new furry best friend,"

Individuals interested in adopting a loving dog or cat will have the opportunity to find their perfect match at a discounted adoption fee. "This is a great time to adopt one of Polk Counties homeless animals, and in return, receive unconditional love," said Shelley Thayer, Executive Director.
